

F2F (Face-to-Face) courses provide a personalized online learning possibility that enables you to improve your Law Enforcement English. It is a unique service, which combines special vocabulary with the English language and its grammar. You might ask:

What is Law Enforcement English?

and

What does Law Enforcement English offer? Well, here it goes:

1. Professional teaching

I have been teaching Law Enforcement English for years and it is clear what different officers need when they learn English. I have also worked with international agencies like CEPOL or MEPA.

2. A personalized schedule with your trainer

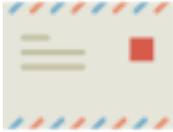

No matter the time zone, each appointment is tailored to your availability. We need to schedule our lessons in advance, and you can find my Skype availability below.

3. Customized materials to your needs

The field of law enforcement is an exciting, yet complex discipline. That is why we believe you must have a customized study set that is negotiated before you start learning.

4. Feedback e-mails

As you progress, you might need further tips and exercises, so each lesson is followed up by a unique email that gives tips and advice based on what you have just learned.

5. Each lesson is 45 minutes

We do believe 45-minute lessons are just not enough - in 60 minutes you can have time to talk about questions you have and the homework.

6. Specialized, but cheap

Okay, so how much does it cost? While there are not many services like this, courses here are the cheapest. A 60-minute lesson cost 30 Euros - and there are coupons and other offers through this website or the newsletter.

7. FREE Starter Pack and Sample Material from the ' Course'

Join the newsletter to get spam-free weekly study materials from many fields of law enforcement, such as organized crime, terrorism or financial crimes. Plus, if you have subscribed, you'll get an exclusive PDF from the 'Course' with a table of all the tenses in English.
